

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The Fine Princess.

The Princess sat in a chair of state,
A lady of high degree;
Her garments shone and her stately mien
Was a grand sight to see;
The children cried as they gazed with pride,
Then ran to their games away—
"We must leave her there—she is far too
fair
And fine for every day!"

The Princess mourned her lovely fate
As she sat in her chair apart;
"How I long for the bliss of a child's sweet kiss,
And the love of a child's true heart!
One fond gaze might spoil my dress,
So I never may join their play.
Unhappy me! It is sad to be Too fine for every day!"

The Princess fell from her chair of state—
Was it chance or a bold design?
As the dog passed by, and she caught his eye—
And she never more was fine!
The children came from their joyous game,
To soothe her pain away,
And she smiled to know, as they kissed
her,
She was fit for every day.

Southern Women Ideal Subjects.

Women will be interested in what Miss Marie Rauffuss, of Louisville, Ky., a portraitist, who is giving an exhibit of her work in Cincinnati, has to say on the relation of fashionable dress to the appearance of women in their portraits. After declaring that Southern women are ideal subjects for portrait painters, because they have the charm of repose and practicality no northerners, Miss Rauffuss goes on to declare:

"The modern fashionable dress seems especially adapted to hide the most artistic lines of the feminine form," Miss Rauffuss says. She never hesitates to take a dress to pieces, planning and draping it on the subject until it conforms to her particular style of beauty. Miss Rauffuss makes a specialty of painting society women and girls.
"Most of my patrons have their gowns made especially for the picture—and I frequently design them myself to bring out the subject's best points," said Miss Rauffuss.

"I will not paint even the most beautiful woman in an inartistic gown—it would kill the picture. In these portraits (Miss Rauffuss pointed to several in the exhibit) I have changed the gowns so even their owners would not know them at first sight."

"This woman came to me with an exquisite gown, trimmed on the corse, and 'angel sleeves.' I ripped off the trimming, tore out the sleeves and put a simple band of velvet over the shoulders. The effect, you see, is perfect, and the portrait will never go out of fashion or look passé."

"A professional singer came to me for a portrait a few weeks ago. The best point about her was her fine, deep chest, and she had a dress up tight about her throat. I cut the top of that dress right out, made it very low in front, and the woman as you see her in the portrait is beautiful."

Young People's Rally.

On Sunday, March 12th, at 4 P. M., there will be another gathering of young people under sixteen years of age in the Y. M. C. A. building, at the Reservoir.

Such members of the families of the Virginia Passenger and Power Company employees are cordially invited, and parents are requested to accompany young children.

Free transportation will be given to under sixteen years of age, and special tickets can be procured at the office and shops of the company, at the Y. M. C. A. building, at the Reservoir, and at the home of the president, No. 905 West Main Street.

A very attractive program has been arranged. The Hon. John Garland Pollard will talk to the children in his usual happy vein.

The singing will be led by the Primary Department of the Grace Street Baptist Sunday school, and some of these little ones will sing in solo and duo.

Master Theron Brown will sing a solo. Miss Gordon's Bible verses will be distributed, and Mr. Reginald Walker will explain his theory of learning them rapidly and thoroughly.

The West End Angels will give delightful instrumental music, and Miss Doza Mitchell will sing. It is hoped this program will lead to a large number of young people and children to attend the gathering.

Miss Roosevelt Bridesmaid.

The Washington Post of yesterday says:

Miss Alice Roosevelt will be a bridesmaid for her cousin, Miss Eleanor Roosevelt, whose marriage to Mr. Franklin Delano Roosevelt, a distant kinsman of the President, and consequently of his fiancée, will take place, as already announced, on Friday afternoon, March 17, in the New York home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Parish, Jr., the latter an aunt of the bride-elect. Miss Eleanor Roosevelt, who is the only niece of the President in the attractive bevy of Misses Roosevelt now in society, is the daughter of the late Elliott Roosevelt, and an orphan, whose home has been chiefly with her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Valentine Hall, in whose name the invitations to the coming wedding have been issued. The bride to be is just the age of the President's daughter and has been a frequent visitor to Washington, although usually the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Cowles. The latter, as well as the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, will go to New York for the wedding.

Harris—Crafter.

The wedding of Miss Anna Crafter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Crafter, to Mr. J. H. Harris, was celebrated Thursday evening, in the home of the bride, 808 North Twenty-Seventh Street, the Rev. Benjamin D. Gaw officiating.

The bride was gown in white silk and carried a bouquet of roses. She and the groom left Thursday evening for a northern trip, will live at the bride's home when they return.

Miss Triplett's Engagement.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Triplett, of Kernstown, have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Margaret H., to Mr. William J. Triplett, of Rappahannock County, Va., in the Methodist Episcopal Church at Kernstown.

Miss Gallatin at Academy.

Miss Alberta Gallatin, a daughter of Confederacy and a granddaughter of General Jenkins, C. S. A., appeared at the Academy last evening in a play entitled "A Clean Slate."

Through Miss Gallatin's courtesy, box seats were sent the president and secretary of the Richmond Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. As both of these ladies are in mourning and not taking any active part in the social life, they could not accept Miss Gallatin's invitation.

The young actress was presented by the Norfolk Daughters with a bouquet of red and white roses when she appeared in that city. She was present at the regular monthly meeting of the Hope-Mary Chapter in Norfolk, of which she is a charter member, and received the highest honor in the selection of silver to be presented to the ship. The Journal should have given the credit in both instances to the Society of Colonial Daughters in the State of Virginia, where it rightfully belongs.

Personal Mention.

Miss Albertina Junker, the daughter of Mr. Herman Junker, a prominent citizen of Pittsburg, is visiting her friend, Miss Lands, at No. 1011 Grove Avenue.

Among the attendants at the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Langhorne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Langhorne, and Miss Morgan Smith, taking place at Cumberland Courthouse, March 7th, were Miss Luntz and Peachy Wilson, and Mr. William Vaughan, of this city.

At a bazaar recently held by the military cadets of Clifton Forge, Miss Mary Ellen Carpenter won a prize for being the most popular young lady in the town, and her sister, Miss Louise Carpenter, was awarded a beautiful mirror that was voted for. These young ladies have often been the guests of Richmond relatives and are well known here.

Tea and English muffins will be served every day from 1 to 7 P. M., beginning with March 11th, at the "Old Book Shop," No. 110 East Franklin Street, where a sale of rare old volumes and blooming plants will open next Tuesday under the auspices of the King's Daughters Circle, of which Mrs. M.
